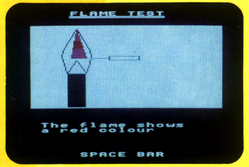
CHEMISTRY £6.95
Make learning fun with this graded program which teaches the Atomic table including Atomic Symbols, Atomic Number and normal form using a fruit machine type display. If all 3 boxes refer to the same element press the space bar to clain the Jackpot. Four levels ranging from beginner to expert. BASIC. [E]

WHICH SALT? £6.95
Identify a compound from the results of a series of tests. Superb graphical animation shows what would be observed in a laboratory. Score depends on correctness and the number of tests undertaken. An excellent program for 4th and 5th year pupils. BASIC. [E]



CONSTELLATION £6.95
Scan the heavens with your 'telescope' zooming in and out. A total of 450 stars in 50 constellations can be depicted. Stars are accurately plotted both by size and position. Includes option to print an annotated star map. BASIC.

PHYSICS (16k) £6.95
Displays measurements of mass, work, temperature etc., their associated units, and the formulae for calculating these values. Suitable for 4th to 6th formers the program also tests comprehension of theses formulae. BASIC.

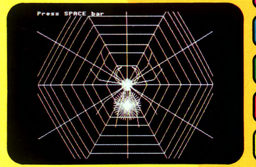
WORLD GEOGRAPHY £6.95
Learning geographical facts becomes a pleasure in this user-friendly program which pinpoints a country on the map, gives its name and requests the capital and/or the population. There are 8 levels of difficulty to cover all 166 countries included. BASIC.

WHERE? £6.95
Towns, cities, rivers and peaks are pinpointed on the high resolution map of Great Britain. The budding geography is requested to choose the correct answer from a selection of 4 possibles. Score is based on the number correct and also speed. Excellent use of colour, graphics and sound. BASIC. [E]

BARRAGE £6.95
Two players control the last remaining guns of opposing armies. Determine the angle of fire and velocity, taking into account the wind speed and distance to hit your opponent's gun. Features include cities, random landscapes and the facility to fire volleys of shots. A game for all would-be generals. BASIC. [E]

JUNIOR MATHS PACK £6.95
Developed to help 5 to 11 year olds to learn maths this package consists of 3 programs with selectable levels of difficulty. Lunar Lander tests multiplication and division, Fruit Machine tests addition and subtraction, and Treasure Hunt tests the understanding of co-ordinates. BASIC.

DRAW £9.95
A powerful 'turtle graphics' menu driven language used to help in teaching programming. Create high resolution pictures using commands such as Turn, Move, Repeat, Pen Up and Pen Down. Draw incorporates a screen dump routine for an Epson printer and comes complete with a 22 page manual. BASIC + MACHINE CODE. [E]



FILER (16k) £9.95
A powerful cassette-based file handling program allowing sort by any field (including a special date sort), cursor key movement through the file, find, insert, delete, printout and more. Also included is an outline program which allows you to write your own programs to process the date files created by FILER. BASIC + MACHINE CODE. [E]

BEEBMON (16k) £7.95
Helps develop and debug machine code programs. Includes routines to Examine and modify memory and registers, Move a block, Fill and area of memory with a value, Execute, Disassemble and Relocate programs, set Breakpoints, and Search for a string of HEX or ASCII bytes. A useful tool to help the user learn more about his micro. MACHINE CODE. [E]

All programmers with bright ideas!

Have you written any programs for the B.B.C. machine? This brochure describes the kind of games and educational software we are always looking for. If you have written a program and would like to have Program Power consider it for publication, please send it to the address below. Your software will be treated with utmost confidentiality and of course will be returned if not used by us. Royalties of 20% are usually paid and if your program is good enough, we will pay an amount in advance. We are also looking for programmers to work full-time, part-time or free-lance. Who knows, your program could appear in the next Program Power brochure.

Spread the word! Micro Power are expanding into the "Commodore 64" market with the same drive and expertise that has made us Number One in B.B.C. Micro and Electron Software.
