1984
LONDON FESTIVAL OF COMPUTING
APRIL 4th 23rd
LFC
SPONSORED BY PRISM
INFORMATION
01 734 ~ 2907

APRIL 1984
Computers Take Over London

A marathon event—London's very own Festival of Computing—transforms the London scene during the first three weeks of April, as our Capital becomes Europe's Number One Computing City. Organised by Londoners for London's residents and visitors—THIS IS YOUR FESTIVAL: no matter how young or old you are, whether you are a professional person, a hobbyist, a business person, a teacher, a student, or whether you simply want to know more about computers, the London Festival of Computing presents you with a kaleidoscope of shows, open days, conferences and seminars on such topics as: education, networking, management, employment and home computing, computer camps and competitions—even robots make a public appearance.

All these events include leading names and authorities, such as Prism, ICL, Sinclair, Acorn, Commodore, Keen Computers, The Times, MITI (Microelectronics and Information Technology in Islington), IT section of The Department of Trade and Industry and the ALCC with over 25 of their computer clubs.

The London Festival of Computing—4-23 April—all over London

See overleaf for brief details

Can you afford to miss it?

For further details contact: The LFC Information Office Business Image Public Relations

Tel: 01-734 2907 or page no. 8008008 of PRESTEL available at most major public libraries

DIARY OF EVENTS

4 April	MITI One-Day Exhibition Islington Town Hall	12 April	Confessions of a Software Publisher—Seminar Charing Cross Hotel.
5 April	Open Day at Inner London Education Computing Centre (ILECC)	12/17 April	Choosing a Home Computer Highgate Literary and Science Institution
6 April	Networking—A Demonstration Sutton Central Library	13 April	What's the Difference?—A Comparison of Basics on Micros Wallington Library
6/12/17 April	How to Select a Microsystem—Seminar NCC Microsystems Centre (6 April) Highgate Literary and Science Institution (12/17 April)	16 April	(Week commencing 16 April) Information Technology and People With Disabilities—Conference and Exhibition GLC Computer Demonstration Centre, County Hall
7/8 April	Computer Camp 'Tasters' Inter-Action Centre	18 April	London Decision Makers Conference Polytechnic of North London
10 April	Microcomputers—An Introduction Sutton Central Library	19 April	Computers and Education in the Home Conference Polytechnic of North London
10/17 April	Open House North London Computer Club Polytechnic of North London	21 April	Robotics Conference Central Hall, Westminster
11 April	2nd High Technology Investment Mart and Conference Hotel Russell	21 April	5th London Computer Fair Central Hall, Westminster.

SPECIAL PROMOTIONS

The Times National Microcomputer Challenge organised by the Times Newspaper
Plus many more events still being organised all over London