

BEEBUG IN EDUCATION

Since its inception, BEEBUG has always enjoyed a strong following among educational users in schools, colleges and universities who use the BBC Micro and Master Series. Many programs published in our magazine are widely used in schools and colleges, as indeed is our own range of professional software, which has been very favourably reviewed in the educational computing press. We are able to provide a service of real value to educational users. This is described in detail in the membership leaflet. In brief we offer:

- * A regular magazine (currently 64 pages) containing articles, programs and reviews of immediate interest to serious computer users in schools and colleges. All programs published in the magazine are also available on disc or cassette, and may be used throughout your school or college.
- * Full technical support for your school or college in managing and running your BBC computers, including the latest Master and Compact. Impartial advice on just about any BBC/Master related problems that you may have.
- * The latest equipment in our St. Albans showroom available for you to try with no obligation, and knowledgeable staff to assist you.
- * Trade-in on BBC micros when upgrading to a Master 128 or Compact.
- * Second-hand BBC Micros at competitive prices with 3 month's guarantee.
- * 25% discount on the entire range of Beebugsoft professional software, already widely used by many schools and colleges. Bulk licence agreements are available - ask for our leaflet.
- * 5% discount on the entire range of hardware and software (including Computers, Monitors, Printers, Disc Drives etc.).
- * Full repair service on all BBC micros through our position as an official Acorn dealer.
- * Official orders welcome.

We Very Much Look Forward To Welcoming You To BEEBUG.
